

Janice freeman , Never be the same

Sun rise in the city
Sun rise in a lonely room
I ain't looking for pity
Just a little lost here without you

Now I don't know what to do
No more putting on perfume
No more waiting for you late at night
No more kisses on your face
No more begging you to stay
Now there's nothing left to say

But thanks for the love that we had
Thanks for the memories bittersweet
And just like the lines on my hands
You made a mark that will never leave
I will never be the same, no
Never be the same, never be the same
Never be the same

I've been attaining to call you
But I run into a friend of yours
Who said you got a new friend now
You packed up and move up to the North

Now I don't know what to do
No more putting on perfume
No more waiting for you late at night
No more kisses on your face
No more begging you to stay

But thanks for the love that we had
And thanks for the memories that sweet
And just like the lines on my hands
You made a mark that will never leave
And thanks for the hole in my heart
And thanks for the space no one else can fill
And even though we're miles apart
And I should move on
And I know I will
I will never be the same, no

So thanks for the love that we had
Thanks for the memories bittersweet
And just like the lines on my hands
You made a mark that will never leave
I will never be the same, no
Never be the same, never be the same
Never be the same
I will never be the same
Never be the same
I will never be the same, no
Never be the same, never be the same

And thanks for the hole in my heart
And thanks for the space no one else can fill
And even though we are miles apart
And I should move on
And I know I will
