

Janis Ian, Stars

I was never one for singing what I really feel Except tonight, I'm bringing everything I know that's real

Stars, they come and go
They come fast or slow
They go like the last light of the sun, all in a blaze
and all you see is glory
But it gets lonely there when there's no one here to share We can shake it away if you'll hear a story

People lust for fame Like athletes in a game we break our collarbones and come up swinging
Some of us are downed
Some of us are crowned and some are lost
and never found
But most have seen it all They live their lives in sad cafes and music halls They always have a story

Some make it when they're young before the world has done its dirty job
and later on, someone will say
"You've had your day You must make way"
But they'll never know the pain of living with a name you never owned or the many years forgetting what you know too well

The ones who gave the crown have been let down
You try to make amends without defending

Perhaps pretending
you never saw the eyes of grown men of twenty five that followed as you walked and asked for autographs or kissed you on the cheek and you never could believe they really loved you

Some make it when they're old
they're not afraid to bare Or perhaps there's nothing there)

Some women have a body men will want to see, so they put it on display Some people play a fine guitar I could listen to them play all day

Some ladies really move across a stage
and gee, they sure can dance I guess I could learn how if I have it half a chance but I always feel so funny when my body tries to soar and I seem to always worry about missing the next chord

I guess there isn't anything to put up on display except the tunes and whatever else I say Anyway, that isn't really what I meant to say I meant to tell a story
I live from day to day

Stars, they come and go
But those who've seen it all they live their lives in sad cafes and music halls we always have a story

So if you don't lose patience with my fumbling around, I'll come up singing for you even when I'm down
