Janis Joplin, Nobody Knows You When You're Do

Well, once I lived the life of a millionaire Spending my money, no, I didn't care Takin' my friend John out for a mighty good time Buyin' high-priced liquor, champagne and wine.

Then I began to fall so low, Didn't have a friend, nor no place to go. If I get my hands on a dollar again I'm goin' to hold on to it until the eagle grins.

Soon as I get back up on my feet again Everybody wants to be my long-lost friend. It's might strange, without a doubt Nobody wants you when you're down and out.

Lord, soon as I get up on my feet again Everybody wants to be my long-lost friend It's mighty strange, without a doubt Nobody wants you when you're down and out. That's what I mean when you're down and out.
