

Jann Arden, Cherry Popsicle

i loved you more than anything i loved you more than anyone you were the peaches in my cream you were my setting sun you were my favorite hockey card you were my smokey little bar you were my cherry popsicle you'll never ever know i was so in love i had lost myself i was so far gone i could not get out i had disappeared i had slipped away i was so in love with you baby you were my chocolate covered heart you were my sweetest honey bee you were my flashlight in the dark you were my cherry tree i took you in like oxygen i let you drive my brand new car you were like no one i ever seen oh baby, you became my arms
i was so far gone i could not get out
