

Jann Arden, Demolition Love

Can you see my heart beating in my mouth Thank God the bones will keep it there inside
And you won have to see this latest casualty And you can get yourself away from all my demolition love
Can you hear me laugh dazed and scared to death Thank God my thoughts aren drifting through the air ause you would catch me there bound so tightly to your knees
The dirt beneath your feet is all I need to be completely mad Yeah hey hey
Yeah hey hey
Can you picture me here in Calgary Thank God the voices screaming in my head would sooner wish instead than face the bitterness of loss
I can take it now I know myself in demolition love
Yeah hey hey
Yeah hey hey
Yeah hey hey
Can you see my heart
