

Jann, Charisma

Find somebody with half the charisma

Oh, no
It looks like he's starting to grow
He's getting way out of control
Draw the curtains and lock the door

Oh, don't
You know I just started the show
I thought this is what you all want
You cannot ignore me for long

I succeed and all you do is whine
I would love to see you try and find

Find somebody with half the charisma
Find somebody with half the charisma
Find somebody with half the charisma

Oh, please
I'm spreading like a disease
The temperature's rising, you freeze
You look like you're about to sneeze

Oh, damn
He's everything I want in men
I want to keep him to myself
Leash on, cuffs attached to my bed

I am all you want, you can't deny
I would love to see you try and find
And find
(Somebody with half the charisma)

Find somebody with half the charisma
Find somebody with half the charisma

I would love to see you try and find
I would love to see you try and find
Find somebody with half the charisma
