Jasmine Guy, Born To Try

doing everything that i believe in going by the rules that i've been taught more understanding of what's around me and protected from the walls of love

all that you see is me all i truly believe that i was born to try learned to love be understanding and believe in life but you've got to make choices be wrong or right sometimes you've got to sacrifice somethings you like

but i was born to try

no point in talking what should of been and regretting the things that went on lifes full of mistakes destinys and fate remove the clouds look at the bigger picture

that i was born to try i've learned to love be understanding and believe in life but you've got to make choices be wrong or right sometimes you got to sacrifice somethings you like

that i wasborn tto try i've learned to love be understanding and believe in life but you've got to make choices be wrong or right sometimes you got to sacrifice somethingsyou like butt i was born to try but you got to make choices be wrong or right sometimes you got to sacrifice soemthings you like
