

Jason Reeves, Photographs and memories

I keep your picture by my bed for when im feeling sad
And i dont know why i would be.
The way your smile looks so real
I feel like i could start to understand your grace.
And i dont understand why you're
Not here with me.

And i dont even wanna know where else
You'd be.

Cause i have photographs and memories of the times
When you weren't on my mind and i was alone.
And i have poetry and drawings of my life
When you weren't on my side and i didn't know
Just what is love...

Writing moments on the wall with different colors
Keeps my mind away from missing you.

And i can't wait to fall asleep to slip into my dreams
Where we can dance upon a star..

And i will be as patient as a boy in love could ever be.
Cause i don't feel like i was real until you were
A part of me.

CHORUS

I need you back, i need you back

I need you here.

I need your smile, i need your eyes

I need you dear.

Cause every line on your face makes a beautiful maze
For my eyes to trace...
