

Jason Upton, Trusting The Angels

Im just a bird with a melody to sing
Im hardly heard look at these tiny little wings
But I can see an arrow flying and Im not afraid
I can hear the terror try to steal the night away
And Im not afraid Im not afraid

I am hiding here in your shadow
Riding under your wings
And I am flying trusting the angels
And living in your covering
And Im not afraid, Im not afraid

Im just a bird without a penny to my name
It may sound absurd Ive got no plans beyond today
But I can see an arrow flying and Im not afraid
I can hear the terror try to steal the night away
But Im not afraid, I am not afraid

I am hiding here in your shadow
And riding under your wings
And I am flying trusting the angels
And living in your covering
I am hiding here in your shadow
And riding under your wings
And I am flying trusting the angels
And living in your covering
And I'm not afraid, I'm not afraid
