Jason Upton, When You Were A Child

When you were a child
I called you my own
And you were mine
When you were a child
You could not standalone
But you were fine

Chorus
I want to know that child again
Maybe time has changed you
But Love remembers when
You called my name and like the wind
I carried you away
It seems like only yesterday
When You were a child

The world was the unknown
But you were wise
To simply trust in me
That I will never leave
And hold on tight
