

Javier, If I Never Get To Heaven

verse 1:

What does your love mean to me its something i can't answer easily just like the air that i breathe you fill me up inside, you give me all that i need like a bird flying high on a summers day you're the wind that carries me away to a place where you and i will always stay forever

chorus:

if i never get to heaven then at least i will have known
i had an angel here on earth that i could call my very own and if this world should end tomorrow, girl this much i know is true i found my piece of heaven the day that i found you

verse 2:

longer than poets will rhyme girl my love will burn for you until the end of time if i should die before tomorrow comes i wont regret a single day, because i had your love must be somethin in the way you say my name it takes away my worries and my pain girl i know we'll make it through the rain together

chorus:

bridge:

like a river flows and a flower grows, my love for you will never fade like the sun will rise in the morning sky you know that i am here to stay forever

chorus:

and if the world should end tomorrow girl this much i know is true i have found my piece of heaven the day that i found you like a river flows and a flower grows, my love for you will never fade like the sun will rise in the morning sky you know i am here to stay
