

Jean Leloup, Smoky Man

I'm a smoky man
and you're a lovely girl get into my plane
i want to see the world
like the dream of an old and happy monk with a three scoop ice cream cone in his hand he feels alone no work, no job, no trouble no fears no fights no problems cause my love you
my need you
my want you too
and this is your last chance to say that you love me too i'm a smoky man and you're a lovely girl life is lazy today
so in bed we stay let me tell you the story of god on the eight day when he tried to invent the smoky monkey what a wonderful monday my love you
this is your last chance
but i don't know if you love me like i love you hey babe don't you understand that i wrote this fkin song just to say that my love you
my need you
hey shut up smoky man
and in bed i stay ok shut up smoky monkey
what a wonderful monday!
