

Jean Shepard, Leave Me Alone

I don't want you anymore I found somebody new
I don't believe I'll take another chance on loving you
I have found the sweetest love that I have ever known
So do me a favor and leave me alone
If you pass us on the street don't stop and say hello
He might guess that you were once the one that I loved so
I have found in him a love that you have never shown
So do me a favor and leave me alone
Do me a favor leave me alone give me this second chance the first one's gone
What's the use of holding on to a love of yesterday
You're only holding on to heartaches that might go away
Find yourself somebody new I did while you were gone
So do me a favor and leave me alone
[steel]
Do me a favor leave me alone...
