

Jean Shepard, Look Of Lovin' (In His Eyes)

Sometimes he finds me standin' in front of my mirror
And he laughs as I turn to side to side
First I feel so silly but then he reaches for me
And I see that look of lovin' in his eyes
Today I found the grey hair why did it have to grow there
Maybe want to sit right down and cry
When I showed it to him he held me closer to him
And I saw that look of lovin' in his eyes
I need him every day or each night and he will come home and hold me tight
I know everything is all right when I see that look of lovin' in his eyes
I need him every day...
When I see that look of lovin' in his eyes
