

Jean Shepard, Two Voices, Two Shadows, Two Faces

You say you don't love her my darling but somehow you can tell her so

So we hide as we still tender moments we hide so nobody will know

Two voices two shadows two faces that hide in the dark of the night

Two voices two shadows two faces afraid to come out in the light

[choir]

You tell me be patient my darling tomorrow you'll tell her bout me

We've gone through a million tomorrows how long will our love have to be

Two voices two shadows two faces...
