

Jean Shepard, You're Calling Me Sweetheart Again

There's nothing so precious the some thing you've lost
And found it somehow in the end
I lost you my darling but now you've come back you're calling me sweetheart again
It's wonderful heavenly back in your arms so heartsick and lonesome I've been
No matter what happened or who's have your love
You're calling me sweetheart again
[ ac.guitar ]
Your love was a treasure I could not replace so nobody's sweetheart I've been My poor heart was dead but it's living tonight you're calling me sweetheart again
I love you more dearly than ever before your kiss is where heaven begins
Your heart has come home and there's happiness here
You're calling me sweetheart again
