Jean Shepard, You're Calling Me Sweetheart Aga

There's nothing so precious the some thing you've lost And found it somehow in the end I lost you my darling but now you've come back you're calling me sweetheart again It's wonderful heavenly back in your arms so heartsick and lonesome I've been No matter what happened or who's have your love You're calling me sweetheart again [ ac.guitar ] Your love was a treasure I could not replace so nobody's sweetheart I've been My poor heart was dead but it's living tonight you're calling me sweetheart again

I love you more dearly than ever before your kiss is where heaven begins Your heart has come home and there's happiness here You're calling me sweetheart again
