

Jeff Anderson, As I Am

Here I am now fallen down on my face for all the world to see.
Im not ashamed to bear a cross that wheres your name
Its your blood that has set me free.
It is you that sees behind the lies I embrace.
You take me just as I am.
It is you that takes away the pain I am feeling.
It is true you are God of love and peace.
I spend my life dying to my self,
Searching for the things I cannot see.
But faith is substance for things hoped for,
The evidence of the things unseen.
It is you that sees behind the lies I embrace.
You take me just as I am.
It is you that takes away the pain I am feeling.
It is true you are God of love and peace
