

Jeff Anderson, Open My Eyes

The closer that I come to you
The more I know that Ive been living in a lie.
How could I have been so blind
To think that there is something I can hide behind?
The more I know you the more you
Open my eyes now I can see
That where you are is the only place
I want to be wrapped in your love.
For my lifetime you are the only one I am dreaming of.
How could I deny your love?
When youre the one who takes me back when I break your heart into.
Maybe I should listen when you call my name.
Youre crying and youre begging me to just stay here with you. The more I know you the more you

Open my eyes now I can see
That where you are is the only place
I want to be wrapped in your love.
For my lifetime you are the only one I am dreaming of.
Im starting to forget why I am here.
That when youre near me everything is all so clear.
The only reason Im alive is to
Know you more so you can
Open my eyes now I can see
That where you are is the only place
I want to be wrapped in your love.
For my lifetime you are the only one I am dreaming of
