

Jeff Anderson, Paralyzed

You have paralyzed all that is inside,
All that is the heart of this desperate man.
I will celebrate the coming of your love.
I can hardly wait for that glorious day.
Though I cant see you. Though I cant touch you.
I know that you are reaching out your hand.
I will always walk in your beauty.
When I cannot see your hand Ill trust your heart.
I can barely breath. I can hardly speak.
I can only close my eyes I cant even think.
Youre all around me. Youre all that I can see.
The closer that I get the more I am free.
Though I cant see you. Though I cant touch you.
I know that you are reaching out your hand.
I will always walk in your beauty.
When I cannot see your hand Ill trust your heart.
I believe in miracles.
I believe in the God that saved the Universe.
To live this life without you, I could think of nothing worse.
Though I cant see you. Though I cant touch you.
I know that you are reaching out your hand.
I will always walk in your beauty.
When I cannot see your hand Ill trust your heart.
