

Jeff Anderson, Your Love Never Fails Me

Take it slowly my heart is fragile and not ready
I hear your voice call to me
Though I am tired I am willing to go with you.
Your love never fails me
Though the world around me crumbles
And the voices in my head
Say I cant do this I will go with you
You hold the keys to my dreams
I will move forward if youll let me
When Im with you I am free
Apart from you I can do nothing
So come and take me
Your love never fails me
Though the world around me crumbles
And the voices in my head
Say I cant do this I will go with you
