

Jeff Buckley, Let's Bomb The Moonlight

so well the world is diagnosed with terminal cancer flesh is not human this culture is not freedom and the world has terminal cancer i want to live with you let's bomb the moonlight and dance this far awake is a joke our love is real and the world is diagnosed with terminal cancer i love your lips ...(?)...

armageddon's just another job, it's all on the inside don't let them tell you love is a lie love is so real the best bet's to stay alive let's go bomb the moonlight let's take it back what was ours by right frame of a picture, the subject's not right oh people of the world you have a new boy in town to share the light with a guillotine that's realer than all of you that's love human.

we'll bomb the moonlight and dance dance

sweet black mother of death why did you have to take her away from me? it's stupid all the words fit together where now is nothing why did you have to bring us together, under such dirty circumstance? i have a molotov
let's bomb the moonlight and dance dance dance dance dance dance dance dance dance
