

Jeff Deyo, Show The Wonder

What I want is to be known by you, Lord
To be famous in your eyes
I don't care if the world knows my name
For it's you I long to please

To please you
To honor you
This one thing I desire

Show the wonder of your love
Give me all that I can take
Show your power in my heart
Make me the apple of your eye
Show me you

What I want is to be rich in your love
To be jaded with your ways
I could gain all the wealth in the world
But it can't compare to you

There's nothing
There's no one
To take the place of you
