

Jeff Edwards, So Blue

Time moves on.
Each and every day.
In your own little way.
Kick up your heels.
Show the world around.
That you're a happy soul.

Smile and the world
smiles back at you.
and deep inside you're feeling.
So blue.

Your world is falling apart
and nobody knows.
Your plastic smile
hides the weight of the world.

Because you're feeling so blue.
What are you gonna do.
It all comes crashing in,
but you hide it with a smile.

Your broken dreams.
The tears that stream down your face.
When you're all alone.
Black and red swirls
for all the girls.

Because you're feeling so blue.
What are you gonna do.
It all comes crashing in,
but you hide it with a smile.

Because you're feeling so blue.
What are you gonna do.
It all comes crashing in,
but you hide it with a smile.

Because you're feeling so blue.
What are you gonna do.
It all comes crashing in,
but you hide it with a smile.

Because you're feeling so blue.
What are you gonna do.
It all comes crashing in,
but you hide it with a smile.
