

Jeff Lynne, What Would It Take

Remember what you told me
That you would always be there
If you change your mind now

Oh, what would it take to save me what would it take to save me now

Here comes another night and all the stars are shining
Could I make it right

Woh, what would it take to save me
what would it take to save me now

Ohhh, What would it take
Whooo, What would it take
To save me

What would it take to save me
What would it take to save me now

Ohhh, What would it take
To save me

Of all the things I do
And everywhere they take me
You know what I go through

What would it take to save me
What would it take to save me now

What would it take to save me
What would it take to save me now
