

Jeffries Fan Club, Walking Backwards

People think I'm selfish but I don't care
When I find a good thing I don't like to share
When it comes to love it never turns out right
It starts with a smile and ends with a fight over you
I'm tired of walking backwards
You're so afraid to lose
I'm never giving up on you
No matter what you say
No matter what you do
I'm never giving up on you
Laughing in my room as I watch Southpark
I wonder who it is outside that makes my dog bark
Open up the door to my long lost friend
She wouldn't settle down I think she's slipping again over you
I remember when she said that anything goes
As I rolled my eyes she put her pride up her nose
I said it's gonna get her but she don't care
Because her mommy didn't love her and her daddy wasn't there
