

Jem, And So I Pray

Storm is brewing in the air tonight
So many pressures on my mind Want to escape just wanna run away
But it's not an option
I have to stay
And so I pray
I wish that all these things
would go away
To disappear if only for a day Know I can't go but I don't wanna stay
Can't believe the irony
The thing I wanted is killing me
All the happy smiles I miss Didn't think it would be like this
And so I pray
I wish that all these things
would go away
To disappear if only for a day
Know I can't go but I don't
wanna stay
Storm is brewing in the
air tonight
So many pressures on my mind
Want to escape just
wanna run away
But it's not an option
I have to stay
And so I pray
I wish that all these things
would go away
To disappear if only for a day
Know I can't go but I don't wanna stay
To be left alone if only for a day
I wish that all these things
would go away (pray to you I hope it will be alright)
To be someone else
if only for a day (and over soon, I feel it) Know I can't go but I don't
wanna stay (hope that you hear me)
