

Jem, Down to Earth

Friends I have to tell you They sent me on a mission down to earth
To watch and to observe life And gather information 'bout your birth

But what I mostly see is misery
And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet, too scared to open up and Just wanna be accepted
but can't show that you care Creating problems daily,
no wonder some go crazy
So special and so gifted,
but most don't know it's there

Friends I have to ask you Surrounded by the beauty of this place
Why do you make it so hard For all the things you want to come your way

Well I don't think you see your destiny
And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet,
Just wanna be accepted,
but can't show that you care
Creating problems daily,
So special and so gifted,

Do it just let it all out Express emotion
Say how you're feeling It's liberating
Nothing can hurt you
You can be happy
But, you must believe it (believe it)

Well I don't think you see
your destiny
And it makes me sad

So capable of love yet,

Creating problems daily,

Won't you let me take you down to earth
