

Jennifer Brown, Just The Way It Goes

You told me once
I had to be strong enough
Shouldn't be holding on if it's wrong Don't pretend you thought this would never end You're scared to be alone again torn again

Running round and round
in circles
Trying to keep it all inside
Looking at the ground and not the sky

Chorus:
Did you know? Did you know?
You don't need me anymore
So let it go, let it go Cause I'm not the one you're looking for at all
I'm sorry it's just the way it goes

It's dark outside
I don't know wrong from right
I wanna go home tonight alone
You know that I no matter how hard I try I don't know what to write not this time

Running round and round
in circles
Just like a fairground ride
When we should be opening our eyes

Chorus II:
Did you know? Did you know?
You don't need me anymore
Did you know? Did you know?
That I'm not the one
you're looking for at all
I'm sorry it's just the way it goes

And did you know did you know that I take you with me everywhere I go Did you know that I'm hurting even if it doesn't show
I love you but it's just the way it goes...

Chorus II:
Did you know? Did you know?
You don't need me anymore
Did you know? Did you know?
That I'm not the one
you're looking for at all
I'm sorry it's just the way it goes
