

Jennifer Knapp, In Two (The Lament)

Finish up your coffee, love it's getting cold let's finish up this fight tonight before the sun draws neigh and I'm old

Have mercy on me I'm a girl though I'm cruel and you cry
I won't shiver cause I know how to break a man I know how to break a man in two

Still you're suffering, my love o, who's to blame?
you might be tired, but I'm not through fanning the flame

o, by the tiding of my tounge I lie and sing what can't be unsung my soul torn in two by the things I say to you by the things that I say

I know how to break us man, in two
