

Jennifer Love Hewitt, Kiss Away From Heaven

If you believe in what's meant to be and you listen to your heart
My love will always find you wherever you are
Last night I saw you walking
Through a dream that filled my head
Felt the strength of my desires
Til the sun spilled down
All across my bed
I opened my eyes and you were gone
This vision of you still lingers on
Ooh how it feels so real to me
If you believe in what's meant to be and you listen to your heart
My love will always find you wherever you are
You're just a kiss, a kiss away from heaven
I knew your face in an instant
I guess you'd call it deja vu
Whatever brought us together keeps me in your arms
So close to you
With every touch I lose control
I'm burnin' inside, can't let you go
This passion's a fire inside of me (yea yea yea)
If you believe in what's meant to be and you listen to your heart
My love will always find you wherever you are
You're just a kiss, a kiss away from heaven
Baby, it's destiny
Now and forever
A love that defies all space in time
A love that...?
If you believe in what's meant to be and you listen to your heart
My love will always find you wherever you are
If you believe in what's meant to be and you listen to your heart
My love will always find you where ever you are
You're just a kiss, a kiss away from heaven
Kiss me
