

Jennifer Love Hewitt, You

Hold me now
Stop the morning light from breaking
Something's coming over me
Don't know what it is i'm saving
The clock ticks by
And it just might change everything
If I don't give you all that's waiting
Who knows what tomorrow will bring?

If I try not to need you
I'd be hiding from myself, but oh

CHORUS

If tomorrow never comes
I would do it all again
If the light never breaks through
I would stay until the end
If I saved it all for you
I would have my faith again, then
Then I would know it's you

Won't shed a tear
For more than just a moment
Try not to let myself go crazy
Tomorrow may not come so I won't
Hold you here
Unless you want to fight about it
I will gladly let you win
'Cause I don't need to write this ending

If I just trust the stillness
Somehow it won't hurt so bad, oh

CHORUS 2x

Then, then, then
I would know it's you
