

Jennifer Rush, You I

Hey

You and I
Outside loves open door
Ive been here
But never been inside before
You and I
The way this world should be
Were closer to heaven than well ever be.

Silently something has taken hold
It will remain or never anything
When I look in your eyes
Were soul to soul
Ive waited so long for your perfect touch.

You and I
Outside loves open door
Ive been here
But never been inside before
You and I
The way this world should be
Were closer to heaven than well ever be.

Hey
Dont let it go

Together lets catch the wind
And ride the night til the end
A distant thunder only our hearts can hear
Under the warmth of this morning sun
Were closer than close
As our fate unfolds.

You and I
Outside loves open door
Ive been here but never been inside before
You and I
The way this world should be
Were closer to heaven than well ever be.

Im faithfully yours
You showed me love can be
So much more
It can be deeper and wider
It can only get much higher now.

Here we are
You and I
Outside loves open door
Ancient pages and faces
Weve come to explore
You and I
The way this world should be
Were closer to heaven than well ever be.

So here we are
Outside loves open door
My heart has wings
Youll wait for me at any distant shore
I believe
Youre waiting there for me
Til the end of time
Your arms will reach out

Only to me.

Forever
Its you and I.
