Jenny Owen Youngs, Keys Out Lights On

I kick you like a dog that never gets fed Kick you like a dog that never gets fed I trust you with my words like you're my friend

I've got so much Stowed away down there I've got so much Stowed away down there

You were all for what I had like it's worth something All for what I had like it's worth something You lean into me 'cause you know that you can

Keys out, lights on No one waiting Keys out, lights on No one waiting

Now I give you my lies, all smudged with ink Give you my lies all smuged with ink You see right through because I am nothing

No more questions I surrender No more questions I surrender
