

Jens Johansson, The Last Viking

the day is coming to an end, and darkness is my only friend, only friend adrift in the ocean, I'm lost in emotion, the ship is my cradle, I long for the stars, I'll trade my life, I just want to see the stars!

an old and tired Viking, I'm soon to join the sea, the darkness will embrace me, the frost will set me free I'm burning in my broken ship, my sails are full of sorrow, beyond is Valhall, vast and void, where the gods will drink with me the moon is floating in the rain, the gods are laughing at my pain, at my pain

a final decision, to meet with my makers, they clouded my vision, I look for the stars, I'll trade my life, I just want to see the stars!

the frost will set me free I'm burning in my broken ship, my sails are full of sorrow, beyond is Valhall, vast and void, where the gods will drink with me
