

Jens Lekman, A Little Lost

I'm a little lost
Without you
Well that could be an understatement
Now I hope that I have paid the cost
To let a day go by and not
Call on you
Cause I'm so busy, so busy
Thinking about kissing you
And now I want to do that
Without entertaining another thought
Out on the ocean flows
I'll have to pull myself together
Now it's harder I'm not on my turf
Just me and, me and those big old waves
Rolling in
Cause I'm so busy, so busy
Thinking about kissing you
And now I want to do that
Without entertaining another thought
It's all so unfinished
Following faith
A voice in me is telling me to Run away
I hope your feeling isn't diminished
I hope you need someone in your life
Someone like me
Cause I'm so busy, so busy
Thinking about kissing you
Now I want to do that Without entertaining another thought
