

Jeremiah Freed, Eyes, Life, Change

Open eyes tell the truth.
What you planned to see was different.
What you thought, what you knew or what you thought you knew about me.

Wasted time, it's been years
Since I heard the news it changed me.
I'll keep on, keepin' on until I find a way that saves me.

The distance gets real and it scars
The timing is now cause I know.
That nothing can make me blind
Cause now I can see.

Who's gonna believe you when I'm gone?
Please don't hide away.
And who's gonna catch you when you fall?
Please don't hide away.

Please no, not today
I thought so much more of you than this.
Now I can see
