Jeremy Camp, Surrender

Purify this tainted soul I'm tired of living life a fool Soften up this heart in clay To be a servant this I pray A reflection of You I long to be So Your kingdom I will see I Surrender to Your throne I Surrender to Your throne And I will make my heart Your home Oh I Surrender to Your throne I've taken things I've thought my own Only to reap what I sow You've given back the years I've fought An Ending love and grace You brought Eternal hope and peace You bring And forever unto You I will sing Forever unto You I will sing [x4] And I surrender And I surrender And I surrender now [x3] Soften up this heart in clay To be a servant this I pray
