

JESS GLYNNE, Thursday

I won't wear makeup on Thursday
I'm sick of covering up I'm tired of feeling so broken I've tried of falling in love some time I'm shy and I'm anxious sometimes I down on my knees sometimes I try to embrace my insecurities so I won't wear makeup on Thursday coz who I am is enough

and there are many things that I can change so slightly but why would I succumb to something so unlike me I was always taught to just be myself
don't change for anyone

I wanna laugh
I wanna cry
don't want these tears inside my eyes don't want to wake up and feel insecure
I wanna sing
I wanna dance
I wanna feel live inside my hands again
oi just want to feel beautiful

I wear my sweat pants on Thursday and I'll drink sloe gin from a can I'll build my own independence I don't always need a man you know sometimes I feel lonely could do with the company I get high when I'm down but you know that's alright with me so I will do nothing on Thursday sit alone and be

but why would I succumb to something so unlike me
I was always taught to just be myself
don't change for anyone

I wanna laugh
I wanna cry
don't want these tears inside my eyes
don't want to wake up and feel insecure
I wanna sing
I wanna dance
I wanna feel live inside my hands again
oi just want to feel beautiful

I won't wear makeup on Thursday
coz who I am is enough

I wanna laugh
I wanna cry
don't want these tears inside my eyes
don't want to wake up and feel insecure
I wanna sing
I wanna dance
I wanna feel live inside my hands again
oi just want to feel beautiful
