

Jesse McCartney, Back Together

Lipstick on my cigarette
How you used to hog the bed
The little shit that I cant forget,
I wonder where you are Still got your apartment key,
Voice mails that I can't delete Man I miss how it used to be, I wonder where you are
I reminisce with the stars tonight
And think of how we knew them all by name
But they don't shine half as bright
Ever since you walked away

If we get back together
It'll be like when I met ya
Baby better girl I bet ya, baby
Let's get back together
Girl I swear you all the reasons
Love is something worth believing

when we get together
it'll be forever
when we get together

If we get back together
It'll be like when I met ya
Even better girl I bet ya, baby

Last call at the trobadour Late night meals after four Stumbling through my front door, it just dont feel the same
Cant go to our lunch spot, or grab joe from the coffee shop
Looking down at my phone a lot, but I dont see your name
I reminisce with the stars tonight
And think of how we knew them all by name
But they dont shine half as bright
Ever since you walked away

If we get back together
It'll be like when I met ya
Even better girl I bet ya, baby
Let's get back together
Girl I swear you all the reasons
Love is something worth believing

when we get together
it'll be forever
when we get together
Yeah

If we get back together
It'll be like when I met ya
Even better girl I bet ya, baby

If we get back together (it would be better)
If we get back together (better than ever)
If we get back together (whoo no whoo no)
If we get back together (I believe in you and I)

I reminisce with the stars tonight
And think of how we knew them all by name
But they dont shine half as bright
Ever since you walked away oh

If we get back together

It'll be like when I met ya
Even better can I bet ya, baby
Let's get back together
Girl I swear you all the reasons
Love it's something worth believing
When we get together
It'll be forever
Yeah
If we get back together
It'll be like when I met ya
Even better can I bet ya, baby
Let's get back together!
