

Jessica Folker, How Will I Know (Who You Are)

I don't know how,
or where to start
Here we're standing again
And I see now,
from where we are,
that our road has come to an end
Though we've come this far,
I don't know why,
but I still can't see who you are

I don't want you to cry
Don't want us to say goodbye
But I know that we're falling apart
I don't need your lies
And if you don't sympathise
Tell me, how will I know who you are?

It's too late now,
we've gone this far,
to see what's hidden within Though we said that we'd never part, maybe I've been trying too hard

To believe in love
I don't know why,
but I still can't see who you are

I don't want you to cry
Don't want us to say goodbye
But I know that we're falling apart
I don't need your lies
And if you don't sympathise
Tell me, how will I know who you are?

Tell me, how will I know who you are?

Don't worry
I promise
It's for the better
So, I think we should let it go now
And maybe we'll find love again

I don't want you to cry
Don't want us to say goodbye
But I know that we're falling apart
I don't need your lies
And if you don't sympathise
Tell me, how will I know who you are?

I don't want you to cry
Don't want us to say goodbye
But I know that we're falling apart
I don't need your lies
And if you don't sympathise
Tell me, how will I know who you are?

Tell me, how will I know who you are?
How will I Know
Tell me, how will I know who you are?
