

Jessica Riddle, Gravity

Black clouds are circling around me
But I can't allow them to surround me
Til I can't retreat
And this isn't war, it's devastation
And there is no end to the frustration
Til you admit defeat

And I'm putting my heart on display
Let it move you or simply walk away

I judge a man by his convictions
If he lives his life without restrictions
Like he's really free
And I used to think I had a calling
But then I learned we're only falling
'Cause of gravity

And I'm putting my heart on display
Let it move you or simply walk away
