Jessica Riddle, Gravity

Black clouds are circling around me But I can't allow them to surround me Til I can't retreat And this isn't war, it's devastation And there is no end to the frustration Til you admit defeat

And I'm putting my heart on display Let it move you or simply walk away

I judge a man by his convictions If he lives his life without restrictions Like he's really free And I used to think I had a calling But then I learned we're only falling 'Cause of gravity

And I'm putting my heart on display Let it move you or simply walk away
