

Jessy Greene, Brand New Day

I'm waiting on a fairytale, its presence is my virtue
It's a brand new day and I did not desert you.
Nothing now can hurt us now, pain's the bottom dollar
I'm spending all I have earned on loving my tomorrows.

Laugh at me if you want to I'm so bashfully exposed
Here I stand before you, in the emperors new clothes

It's a brand new day
I can feel a change is coming.

You've got a pretty little thing, a pretty little thing indeed
Everything you need is falling down at your feet.
Can you leave this
You got to feed it if you stay,
Think too hard and you'll never get away.

It's a brand new day
I can feel a change is coming.

exposed
Here I stand before you, in the emperors new clothes.

It's a brand new day
I can feel a change is coming
