

Jesus On Extasy, Alone

The world was empty before the day and it didn't seem to get better any way the way I lived would have broken me I drank too much. Had no one who was watching me But God sent an angel with broken wings to save and protect me and guide me through this life was you I met on that day it was you who saved me from my tragedy

I thought that you were my ark
but you left me in the dark
My little life fell apart
I feel I wanna cry
I'm looking for a new home
traveled from Paris to Rome
I never felt so alone
I feel I wanna die

Friends may leave me and maybe parents, too but if I'm weak,
I used to count on you but now I'm sick of you cocoons pretending to be my friends

I thought that you were my ark
but you left me in the dark
I feel I wanna cry
I'm looking for a new home
traveled from Paris to Rome
I never felt so alone
I feel I wanna die
