Jewel, Everything Breaks Sometime

Under the shadows, forbidden and hot Desire grows, more often than not

I'm sorry's a stupid word, a stupid thing to say Especially considering it's not like I planned it this way

But I'm sorry is all that there is left of me I'm so sorry this love made me hollow and left you empty

Maybe I could have loved you better Maybe you should have loved me more Maybe our hearts were just next in line Maybe everything breaks sometime Everything breaks sometime

It's hard to believe it's boiled down to this It seems so surreal this won't be healed by a kiss It's hard to stare at you knowing you like I have I used to feel so close, now I feel so bad

My heart's filled with thunderstorms and I'm ready to burst And I've lost my favorite harbor and I'll weather for the worst

Maybe I could have loved you better Maybe you should have loved me more Maybe our hearts were just next in line Maybe everything breaks sometime Everything breaks sometime I'm so sorry, Everything breaks sometime
