

Jewel, Unsung In Your Eyes

Rising to the challenge
Tough boys always appeal
With a little bit of orange
With a little bit of blue
I'm gonna fix you up
Bring out the best in you
I'm going to empty myself out
Hollowed of pride and alone
Filled in with with myself
The courage will be my own
But still I falter

Your hands know not my own
It's not that my body is overlooked
My soul is just unknown
And I cry myself to sleep
It should come as no surprise
I've tailored myself to fit your needs
Still I am unsung in your eyes
Still I am unsung in your eyes

[performed on lauren hutton show.]