

Jill Johnson, God's Gift

You've got a mind, I'm sure you do, a great body and the money to You've told me twice, that you're a star
You've got your own show, now in this bar
You need a woman, and I'm the deal
I can't believe what you say is for real

I'm truly tired now
I'm falling asleep when you say that you are

God's gift to a woman like me
God's gift to the planet earth but God's gift to me would be if you drive away and just keep going

You really think that you're the one
I think there's nothing new under the sun
I can't believe that you exist
You're all the things that I never missed

I'm truly tired now
