

Jill Johnson, It Ain't The End Of The World

did you think I was gonna break down from you're good bye? and I would be in a million pieces, having a good cry?
I know you thought when you said; "it's the end" I'd be on my knees but baby think again.

chorus

it's just the end of the hurt just the end of us the end of what you been calling love the end of the road and the end of the line the end of you breaking this heart of mine baby for this girl it ain't the end of the world

I'll be the first one to admit it's not gonna be easy I have these memories and regrets that won't ever leave me, no But I can't let them hold me back I'm moving on you can count on that

no!
You started this so baby go on I'll try not to look back for long
you started this so baby go on

chorus x2

no no not the end of the world no no no no
