

Jim Reeves, Look Behind You

If you ever change your mind
And you find that you still care
It won't be too hard to find me
Look behind you I'll be there.

When your bright light starts to dim
And your thought return to me
If you're really through with him, dear
Look behind you there I'll be.

Like a story with no ending
Like a song that's never through
There's no use in my pretending
I'm lost without you.

If you ever change your mind
And you find that you still care
It won't be too hard to find me
Look behind you I'll be there.

Like a story with no ending
Like a song that's never through
There's no use in my pretending
I'm lost without you.

If you ever change your mind
And you find that you still care
It won't be too hard to find me
Look behind you I'll be there...
